

COMPANY PROFILE

Under Pressure Plumbing guarantees our workmanship on all our jobs. In the hectic and busy life most of us deal with day after day.....the last thing you want to worry about is your plumbing. Our aim is to provide you with peace of mind.

WHO WE ARE

Under Pressure Plumbing was founded in 2001 by Duncan Keil, a master plumber with more than 35 years' experience and a great passion for the plumbing industry, youth empowerment and community development.

The business was developed with the intent of growing the plumbing industry through empowerment, skills development, collaboration with seasoned water technology experts, as well as forming partnerships with key industry, compliance and technology leaders, to help create a professional standard in South Africa.

In 2018, we changed the name of the business to UPP Group (Pty) Ltd as a result of our expansion and renewed focus on becoming Water Solution Specialists. What started as mainly residential and construction-related work had evolved to the point where we were able to offer our clients so much more than traditional plumbing-related services.

UPP Group (Pty) Ltd is a proudly 100% women-owned, BBBEE Level 1 business. We use only SABS-compliant products and are registered with the PIRB (Plumbing Industry Registration Board) and IOPSA (Institute of Plumbing South Africa).

OUR SERVICES

At the UPP Group, we are all about revolutionizing and transforming the way South Africa does plumbing – from service to training...

UPP CONSULTING

The UPP Group has been a partner of choice on many specialised projects over the years, thanks to our expertise and years of experience, working on big construction projects such as shopping malls, schools and residential estates, as well as implementing smaller-scale plumbing contracts, handling commercial maintenance and consulting on specialised industrial projects – many involving the need for filtration and waste management solutions.

For us, the saving of water as a resource is critical, so we regularly consult with clients, suppliers, inspectors and other industry specialists in an attempt to harness our collective wealth of experience and use it to address the issue of water conservation and how to make green technologies the norm.

UPP TRAINING, MENTORING AND SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Becoming a plumber isn't just about fixing toilets and replacing leaky pipes. It's an ever-evolving trade, thanks to continuous innovation and technology. As such, plumbers require both the mental and physical acumen to grow and keep up with industry developments. Hand in hand with this is the ability to run a day-to-day plumbing business – something that doesn't readily get taught.

At UPP, we currently offer in-house training, coaching and mentoring to help with up-skilling and professionalizing the industry. Our aim is to open a fully-accredited training facility, complete with online course offerings, apprenticeships and practicals, so we can reach as many would-be plumbers, certified plumbers at the start of their careers, as well as seasoned professionals, to help promote skills sharing and ongoing development.
